Our readers' attention is invited to the writings of our new society editor, Miss Spill de Beans, who is pinchhitting for the old lady while the latter is luxuriating in Hot Spring's famous Majestic Hotel.

Miss de Beans is, as her name indicates, a French girl, and is as curvey as a parabola, if you engineers know what I am talking about. There is not an angle, either acute or obtuse, in her make-up.

The old lady, of course, thought that she could leave me here alone and I could live an absteminous life, but I have got so used to being around a good-looking lady that I immediately hired Miss De Beans, and, to confess the truth, I expect I will keep her even when the old lady comes home—not as a society editor, of course, for no one can beat Mabel, but as an ornamental bookkeeper.

The reason Miss de Beans knows so much inside dope, which is recorded on the society page, is that she attended most of the functions, and was the lady who broke up the strip poker game mentioned on her page.

John Bradley and a lot of the other old married men have fairly haunted my office since Miss de Beans has been employed here.

Just turn the page and see her beautiful picture smiling from the mast head of her splendid column and you will cease to wonder why my office has been a Mecca for fawning males. The poor gal could hardly work.

They are getting into high gear out at the camp. Trucks rolling day and night hauling gravel and sand for the roads, other trucks hauling prefabricated parts of the barracks to the sites of the barracks, Fridays and culverts being placed, fields leveled off and clearned of timber—all a scene of feverish activity.

It looks as if Abernethy is going to send Mr. L. S. Ford back to Arkansas.

Aint they sweet.

Unless something unforeseen happens, Jim Eastland is going to carry this county in spite of the fact that I am going to vote for him. If he can carry it with that handcap, he is a good one.

William Wright, the commander, Bill Saunders, the commander-elect, and Vice Commander Hodges attended the State Convention of the American Legion Monday. They got back alive anyway.

Sgt. Clyde Horn, we hear, is to become a Technical Sergeant about the middle of this month. Congratulations, sarge.

Brother Cigar Smoking Childs honored the office with a call one day recently. He wanted to know about the war, and I could not tell him, tho it looks bad to me at the present time. He reports that they have the best prospects for a crop that they have had in many years, and that they have was most easy to work.

It will not be long now until the grand jury meets and will hear a lot of sworn-to lies.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Jim Neal's father, and are sorry also that we have no data concerning his death.

I have never seen such a determination among all ranks of people to defeat everyone who is now in Congress. The people believe, and rightly, that those men are responsible for the hell of a mess this country got into.

Nome, we have no apartments listed, is a reply we have to give at least 20 times a day.

Bob Brown, the oil and gas tycoon, of Louisville, came into Grenada and collected some money from the Ferdinand players. Be sure to make him divvie up, Mrs. Brown.

Repeating, we can lose this war.

Aint the sweet.

Grenada does not wish to be selfish with its newest architectural triumph, the tin jack barn, and, as a public service, the GCW proposes in next week's issue to publish a picture of this masterpiece in used tin and 2x4's. We want the old residents of Grenada who have gone away, to see How Grenada Grows.

Brother Kratt of the Jones Company seems to be a wholesouled fellow as well as a wonderful executive.

We hardly ever take two bit subscriptions but, as times are hard, we took two bits from sister Turnage for a month's subscription.

JAP'S AMBITION?

Met a lady on the bus coming over here and she related her sister's experience with her servant, a Jap house boy, which occurred only recently. Her sister lives on the West Coast and as the Japs were being sent inland, by the F. B. I. orders from Washington, the house boy was leaving for the station to take his place with other Japs being evacuated.

The mistress said very kindly "Joe when the war is over, and if you wish to do so, you may have your old job back." The Jap, equal to the occasion said, "I beg your pardon, when this war is over, you may be my servant."

How does that strike you?

RIGHT HERE AT HOME!

Looks like Vicksburg, Greenville, Natchez and the Mississippi Coast have harbored some real fifth columnists. The F. B. I. caught the guilty with enough contraband in their possession to convict them, yet the circumstances and acts of these vicious enemies and spys will be reported to an Alien Hearing Board, and this board will decide whether the aliens are to be interned for duration of the war or placed on probation. Tut,Tut—why not try them by the laws of the country they represent? Their penalty for such doing is death!

Recently the Vichy French were accused by the Russians of transporting German troops and war materials via French Tunisia to the Libian front. Too bad. Too bad. The Vichey French and Free French too, for that matter, will furnish the battle field for the world's greatest battles in the near future when the great second front is opened on the continent, and the Vichey French will be caught between two great enemies, with nothing to gain and everything they possess to lose.

NEEDED—FIRE FIGHTERS

The Northwest, where our mighty timber reserve lies, is restless as the fire season approaches. Old timers remember when in 1910 forest fires consumed 3,000,000 acres of virgin timber, costing the lives of 85 people and when over, people walked knee deep in ashes from the finest spruce forest on earth. The Northwest is restless because while Congress wrangles over voting a few million dollars for fire controll funds, they are in danger of another devastating fire, this time dropped from enemy planes. That will very likely be a campaign issue out West and nothing more—and the whole nation will be the loser if a fire rages.

MADAME SPEAKS!

For once we agree with Madame Frances Perkins, secretary of labor who said, "I think we will make a very great mistake if we call mothers of young children to work on production lines until the time comes when we have entirely exhausted all other available supplies of labor."

THE BOSS SPEAKS!

You know it's good to read what Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander-in-Chief U. S. Fleet, had to say about our own. He said, "The American man is unequalled as an intelligent and fearless fighter." Doesn't that make you look people straight in the eye and make you stand a little taller?

FLEET COMMAND

President Roosevelt ordered the promotion of Vice-Admiral Royal E. Engersoll, Commander-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet, to the rank of Admiral. Admiral Hart, Commander-in-Chief of the Asiatic Fleet has been placed on the retired list. This announcement came Friday.

The sentence which really pack a wallop is, "Eternal Vigilance is the price of Liberty," and it means just that; eternal vigilance against loose talk, against any but official reports, against dissatisfaction spreaders, against the growth of complancency and against waste in whatever form!

There are a few Mississippians here at the Majestic Hotel. Had the pleasure of seeing Mrs. Paul Gerard and two fine boys, Paul, Jr. and Roy, in the lobby here at the Majestic yesterday, (Sunday). They left for home today.

There are a Mrs. Fitts, of Byhalia, and Mrs. Scott, of Woodville here.

Others in our hotel group include Mrs. Mead of New Orleans, whose husband is a member of the War Production Board of that city. She is a very delightful new friend. It is interesting to know she is a sister-in-law of Mr. Mead, the navy recruiting officer at Grenada.

Several other Mississippians stopping at the Majestic are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Barcroft, of Greenville; Mr. Stanton, of Leland, whose wife is to arrive this Thursday; Dr. Dobson, of Leland; Mr. and Mrs. Vinton, of Greenwood and a Mr. Jolly, of North Carrollton, who runs with the Mississippi crowd. Mrs. Willobrant, of Kansas City—quite a traveler and certainly very entertaining, will review the book "The French Creek." in the lobby tonight, following a musical.

So long!

Bill Saunders Elected Com. of Legion Post

William D. Saunders, of Troy Plantation, was elected Commander of American Legion Post No. 35 Friday night last. The following officers will serve under him: Lewis Odom, vice-commander; Cliff Hamby, Adjutant; Harry Greenfield, Service Officer; and W. B. Martin, Sergeant at Arms.

The election was held at the Legion Hut following a joint meeting of Legion members and members of the Woman's Auxiliary, at which cake and cream were served.

O. E. S. To Meet Tuesday, July 14

O. E. S. MEETS TUESDAY

The O. E. S. Grenada Chapter will hold its stated meeting Tuesday, July 14th at 8 p. m. at the Masonic Temple.

Grenada Garden Club To Meet

Grenada Garden Clubs meets next Thursday afternoon at 4:30 with Mrs. H. J. Thiel on Line St. Moving picture will be shown by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. The subject of the show will be flower arrangements.

If the rubber situation is as serious as it seems to be, the government should take the bull by the horns and commandeer every tire from non essential private cars. Certain people are designated as those who may buy new tires. Let that class ONLY keep their tires. Liberty is worth a damsite more than joy riding. If we lose our liberty, we will lose it and tires also. This war is getting "billious".

Folks, at the camp grab for the GCW, and we hope they will reciprocate by grabbing for some of our good printing. The printing business sustains the newspaper business which cannot stand alone these days unless former standards are lowered.

Selma has got so uppity working up at the ho-tell that she never comes down town any more.

W. M. U. MEETING ANNOUNCED

We have been requested to announce that the W. M. U. will meet at four o'clock Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church for the Royal Service Program.

CLANTON-WHITE

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clanton announces the marriage of their daughter, Miss Delorise Clanton to Mr. Powell White which was solemnized Sunday afternoon in Grenada in the presence of a few close friends.

Suggestion To Merchants

Grenada has a Retail Merchants Association. One of its functions we presume, would be to see that its members get what they pay for.

Therefore, if any outside advertising agency, or newspaper, or what not, proposes to distribute 5,000 (or any other specific number) of pieces of advertising matter (newspaper, or other means of advertising), it seems entirely appropriate that a representative of the Retail Merchants Association would ask the privilege of seeing that THAT number was actually printed and distributed.

No merchant in the grocery business would PAY FOR eight barrels of flour and receive only four or five. No dry goods merchant would buy a gross of hats and pay for a gross but RECEIVE 96 hats.

Check up.

GORE SPRINGS NEWS

We have jest learned of the death of Mr. Silas Neal who died in a Jackson hospital Sunday night. Funeral services will be held at Providence this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Further details will be published later.

Mrs. E. L. James was called to Greenwood Monday on account of the death of her brother, Mr. Archie Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert James and two children spent the week-end in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell White left Sunday afternoon for Brookland, N. Y., after a 30 days furlough from the navy.

Mrs. G. A. James returned home Friday after a week's stay in Fort Benning, Ga. with her son and family, Mr. Byrd L. James.

Mr. Jimmie Fite, Miss Juanita Ballard have been the guests of Mr. Gay Fite and son, W. G. Fite for the last week. Jimmie is another one of the soldier boys from Fort Benning, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamon and daughter, Miss Nanie Lou Lamon were the guests of their parents and grandparents, Mr. W. W. Lamon and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James through the week-end.

Dear Brother: I saw our old buddy Joe Williams, over in the swamp Sunday, but I guess neither you, Joe nor I had better do any talking. Mum is the word.

We Can Lose This War

I wish everyone who reads this would stop a moment and remember that we can lose this war and that the freedom of speech, of the press and of religion which we have heretofore inadvertently taken to us as a matter of course can be lost.

The people of this country have lived most prodigally. They like the big wide hotel boys up and thanks the one free for the service never appreciated the freedom that they have enjoyed by virtue of the hardships and sacrifices of the men of '76.

As a matter of fact, we are at the present time losing the war. There exists no valuable chance in the trend before our people of winning the war.

Few people living in Grenada actually realize that a life and death struggle in which our very all is vitally interested is in progress in the world. Most of our people are back home interested in getting some of the good money that is guaranteed to those who have contracts for war materials. Yes, Egypt is very important to us, but not so important as China. A long war in China will be disastrous to us. China needs help from us, yet it is the only nation on earth that is offering sustained resistance on land to Hitler's armies. Recent withdrawals from Moscow and withdrawals indicate that the rugged Russian soldiers are holding their own on their sectors. With its hands full trying to keep from losing Egypt, Britain can't help but be interested in keeping Russia in the war. Russia too is in need of us, a country where they drink vodka and were long ago, got

BUSHWA BUSHWA

Averting a shotgun affair by a narrow margin of fifty minutes, Miss Helen Bushwa became the bride of Mr. Phil D. Bushwa, as the happy couple met the irate father of the bride to the J. P.'s office about ten o'clock last Saturday morning.

Mr. Bushwa is a prominent son of a prominent Beatlement man on one of the Ball Farms, while the bride had a job in the sewing room of the WPA until the economy drive started in Washington, and until the congressman found out that she voted wrong.

They intend to work until the WPA is reborn.

W. O. A. CLUB TO MEET

The Worship Our Ancestors Club is scheduled to meet at the club room on Peters Street Friday afternooon at 2 o'clock. The subject of discussion is to be "Why Have Ancestors Anyway."

Miss Genevieve Glesson is visting in the home of the Smithson's on Gretna Street. To tell the truth, it is straining the Smithson budget to meet payments on the car, refrigerator and radio, and feeding this homely guest adds to their financial worries, especially when Mrs. Smithson has to use all sorts of maneuvering, besides all expenses, to get young men to carry Miss Glesson out of evenings.

Miss Smithy Peters is still chasing after Willie Donothing. But Willie is gunshy as a fox. He says Miss Peters worries his very soul.

SUNDAY GIN PARTY

The handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. Epson E. Salts was the scene of the weekly gathering of members of the Sunday Gin Club. The hostess stirred around among the neighbors and borrowed enough silverware and chairs, also ice, to serve the guests. Since gin is being rationed, the members were served Tallahatchie corn from a charred keg, but after a couple of slugs, nobody knew the difference. Several passed out.

Just as they were fixing to go off for a pleasant week end in the country, Mr. and Mrs. Sulphur P. Aince were chagrinned to hear a voice of their dear old friend, Mrs. Lar G. Bore over the phone announcing that she was on her way up from the bus depot to spend the week-end. Mrs. Aicne looked like she had swallowed a persimmon until the guest arrived, after which he acted like the prodigal son's father acted when the p. s. came back home. Deceitful, yes, but there is nothing to do about it. YOU know how wimmen are.

Mrs. Orta B. Better and Mr. I Aint Shamed spent the week-end together in Memphis. Mrs. I. Aint Shamed is spending a few weeks with her folks in Alabama.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Whirry Goround announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pitty, to Mr. James E. Dodger. The draft board has been after Mr. Dodger a good while and it is generally believed that he is marrying to get out of military service. Five to one odds are being offered that, while he may marry, he will be drafted.

Your Socialistic Reporter saw a lady and gentleman, who should not have been together, together in Winona last Tuesday.

CATTY BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

The iron-handed, velvet gloved members of the Catty Bridge Club met at the HOLC home of Mrs. Velvita Valdosta Tuesday afternoon. The living which lends itself beautifully to decoration was most ornate with spirae, buttercups and smilax which the hostess borrowed from the Odd Fellows cemetery.

After several rounds of bridge during which several catty remarks were made and many more catty looks directed toward dumb partners, the hostess served a delightful plate containing some spindly ham sandwiches, some half eggs and a shot of weak tea sweetened with Cane as their sugar had been exhausted the night before in a licker party.

The prize for high score, an ash tray which the hostess had received on Christmas 1939, was won by Miss Will I. Renege on a fluke when she added the year, 1942, to her score. Booby prize naturally went to Miss Biddem High who received a pair of hose which she privately said she would not let her cook wear. Non-member guests were Mrs. I. Trumpa Trick, of Jackson, and Miss Cuttem Deep, of Aakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Grinn N. Bearem have been grinning and bearing their boresome guest, Mr. I. Tellit Often, of Chicago. They are filled with true Christian fortitude for they heard those old tales dozens of times andpolitely laugh every time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilton C. Butler had their friends, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Jackham and children of Greenwood, over here Sunday so that the children could see a passenger train.

Grenada Coca-Cola Bottling Company

Private Roll Dem Bones, of Camp Friction, was home recently wearing some sergeant's stripes.

GOSSIP CLUB MEETS

The Gossip Club met last Tuesday afternoon in the home of the president, Mrs. Blackem Character. The subjects of discussion were the members who were not present.

Jepson C. Pollicker and his bride, the former Miss Jesse C. Bootlicker, who were married because each thought the other had money, are sponging off their friends the Lackersons until the WPA opens up again.

TENTATIVE ENGAGEMENT

A rather unusual engagement was recently announced. James C. Slacker is scheduled to marry Miss Notta Brain if he finds out that married men are exempt from military service. If not, the engagement is strictly off, according to reliable sources.

STRIP POKER PARTY

The strip poker party held at the lovely FHA home of the Luckies on HOLC Avenue broke up when Miss Nitta Yunia, having lost her shoes, hose, hat and garters, said she was quitting as she had but one more chip to lose.

James S. Smithkins has returned to his home in Wesson after finding out that his hosts, the Bell-Dusters, did not act like they wanted him in their home with his BO and all.

GLORY BE, SAID THE BRIDE'S PARENTS

When we say happy, we mean HAPPY is the condition of Mr. and Mrs. Elder D. Packingam when they finally got their old maid daughter, Bertty Nelly, married off. While the bride is nothing to write home about she aint got nothing on the groom, Belfast P. Halterburn, who looks like the traditional last of pea time. As the preacher, Rev. Hellfire N. Damnation, said the words "... asunder. Amen," the parents (also the bride) heaved sighs of profound relief. The groom neither smiled nor frowned. He just stared.

PLAY ANNOUNCED

To secure funds for the purchase of rubber nipples for orphaned apelets, the T. P. A.—Teachers Pet Assembly—will put on a play (for men only) at the auditorium Tuesday night. The play was written by somebody whose name your Socialistic Reporter has forgotten but the name of the play is "Three Weeks."

There aint much news this week and we aint going to make up none.

DEDICATORY SERVICE

Announcement has ben made that a suitable dedicatory service will be held at the jack barn next Friday morning. This beautiful and artistic dream of a master architect will be dedicated to the welfare of all mankind. Prayer will be offered by Rev. Bob Botch, the building contractor, who is also a jackleg preacher. "Hand Me Down My Bottle of Corn," by a selected group of singers. An eulogistic oration on the mule—who has no pride in ancestry and no hope of posterity—will be delivered by Mc Too Doxology. A hearty bray from Joe McAfee's jack will close the ceremonies.

Several people attended preaching Sunday could not tell for the life of them what subject the preacher used.

C. O. C. CLUB MEETS

The Cut Out Calories Club met at the obese Mrs. Adipose Tissue Wednesday afternoon. This group of decidedly plump wimmen has been trying to find out how to reduce their hips and waistlines, yet eat all of the bread and sweets their appetites call for. Their slogan is "Kut Out Calories, but Keep Sweets and Bread."

Your Solialistic Reporter apologizes for the lack of news this week, or rather for her inability to obtain much of the great mass of news that would be available to a regular society editor. She absolutely refuses to fabricate any news or to let common gossip pass as news on her page.

When she went to the beauty shop to get a permanent, your Socialistic Reporter heard a lot of gossip, but she might get the GCW in Dutch if she repeated this idle gossip in print. Beauty shops must be as great places for gossip as Mr. Editor says barber shops are.

I think I seen one of them "ladies in the evening" the editor is always talking about, for she certainly was not ladylike in the daytime as she cussed like they say a sailor cusses by sunlight. So I guess she is a lady in the evening. Anyway I give her the benefit of the doubt.

SWIMMING PARTY

Mrs. Gelatin P. Grapenuts honored her charming house guest, Miss Peachy Pluhitude of Oxford, with a swimming party Monday night at the municipal swimming pool. The skinny guests stayed in the water a good deal of the time. Everybody reported that they had a grand time.

Mr. Gustave Pennypincher said he would buy some of them war bonds if somebody would guarantee that the United States would win the war.

While at a bridge party I seen one of the wimmen, who was suffering from heartburn, slip her sandwich into her purse to carry home, so she could eat it after she took a dose of Arm and Hammer soda.

COCKTAIL PARTY

While Mrs. Gerald S. Turpentine is a big member of the church and sings, often off key, in the choir, she might be reluctant to see the mention of her recent cocktail party in the paper. But she did have one and a humdinger too. The Latins have a phrase for what happened—"In Vin Veritas," in wine there is truth, and some of the guests talked out of school much to the embarrassment of those still able to think. Some of them got home sober—and alive, some barely alive. Everyone reported a headache and an aspirine tablet dirt for the next day.

As soon as she makes a payday your Socialistic Reporter is going to buy one of those cute little gossamar unmentionables which she seen in Keeton's window.

FERDINAND CLUB

The GCW has been requested to announce that the Ferdinand Club will meet at the home of Mr. Right W. Dunem Friday night. A full attendance is earnestly requested. All Beat Four members are requested to eat supper before they come to the meeting. The banker, who is under $300 bond, has announced that he will not cash in any chips until the game is over. Those desiring lemon sours and other drinks requiring sweetening are requested to bring their own sugar. Peanuckle decks are barred. Anyone dealing straight poker will have to forfeit a dollar to the USO.

Your Socialistic Reporter now signs off as she has to powder her nose, rouge her lips, paint her cheeks, dye her hair, tighten up on the corset, put some red stuff on her fingernails, pick a blackberry seed out of her denture (false teeth to the uninitiated), repair her bustle, wash out her socks and brassiere and keep that date with the itinerant piano tuner.

DURING THE WAR —and After

THIS WAY to the WAR AND the PEACE

WE ELDER members of the Illinois Central family have been inspired in recent months by the sight of many new faces among our customers. On the other side of the counter, our experienced customers have been noticing new faces also among the railway personnel.

That's one effect of the war, and it calls for an increase of acquaintanceship all around. Another effect of the war is to increase the difficulty of rendering satisfactory transportation, and that calls for both friendship and understanding.

Perhaps some of you customers—both old and new—would like to listen over our shoulders to learn what we are telling the members of the Illinois Central family, both old and new, regarding the lasting importance of cordial service even in wartime. It goes like this:

"We've got a real job to do—and a vital and necessary job—in the wartime movement of men and materials. Ours is a service indispensable not only to the successful prosecution of the conflict but also to the maintenance of civilian life meanwhile.

"Yet we know that when the conflict ends we must look to peacetime commerce, industry and travel, alone for our revenues. What we do today to combine cordial service with the handling of wartime traffic will in a large measure influence the results to be obtained by our efforts after the war.

"There is no priority on cordial service, no rationing of friendly courtesy, no blackout of a genial smile.

"The present situation offers us a twofold opportunity to contribute our maximum effort to victory and at the same time to build a strong reservoir of public good will and understanding which will be of tangible and worth-while value to our country and to us when peace returns.

"That we propose to do with all our might."

Seriously, Grenada had better clean up some of the filthy spots which exists principally in the crowded negro section. The commanding officer of the camp is likely to have an inspection made, and designate the whole of Grenada "out of bounds." We have rocked along for generations and neglected to attend to these matters, even if these unspeakable conditions are eternal menaces to the community health. Maybe, when these conditions affect the pocket books, as well as the nostrils, something will be done.

Our supervisors are now engaged in their most difficult tasks that of seeking to equalize the assessments of property. Even when done in the most conscientious manner, the results are far from perfect, and nobody would admit that in fact than the supervisors. It is a hard job indeed.

Major Wade and his folks went fishing near Greenville during the week-end. It is not known whether they took any hooks, but it is a safe bet that Major was prepared to counteract the effects of any snake bites. I believe if the truth would come out, Major would have preferred going to the chicken fight with us.

Dear Brother Kraft: I received your letter and you have "something" in it. However it is an almost hopeless task to arouse our people from their sound sleep.

The same man who gives all of his printing to Winona and other places, sent an office boy all the way to Grenada to get a bunch of FREE copies of the GCW. That's a hell of a note. If he had the nerve to do this, I had the nerve to send them FREE.

Dear Elliott: I did not see you at the rooster fight. You must have been at S. S. where I should have been.

C. V. McKell, we understand, has resigned his position with the power company in Jackson and has accepted a commission in the U. S. N. and has gone to his post of duty at Portsmouth, N. H. Good luck, Mac.

Wells Doxey's main man in this county, is in hog heaven now, as he is trailing Doxey with his sound truck. It looks like some of the few other Doxey men would get jealous of Brother Wells.

We wish to congratulate John B. Vickery, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Vickery, grandson of Mrs. Nap Jacks, and nephew of all the Jacks boys who was recently promoted to second lieutenant. He first joined the navy, then transferred to the Army Air Corps, then went to school, and recently blossomed out with his gold bars. He went up the hard way, and the more the credit to him.

There are a lot of "if's" in the outcome of this war. Ther is too much uncertainty about the reports we common folks get. Let us have the truth, bad or good. We were recently lulled into complancency again by statements of leaders that the North African situation was well in hand. The next thing we knew, the British army had been driven back a couple of hundred miles.

Sam Simmons, Sr. may be just playing sick after all. We understand that recently he was seen entertaining five lady friends, on his front porch. We also understand that some of his lady friends keep him supplied with Cape Jasmine blossoms all of the time. I think that I too shall retire to the sick room. Wonder if Katy and Little Texas will keep me supplied with Cape aJsmines?

We tried to get Lady Byron to write a poem about the new jack barn down below Piggly Wiggly. She says the subject is very tempting, but that she hasn't quite lived down the court house poem yet. (What strange things, these poets be!) She goes on to say that the court-house poem injured her reputation to such an extent that the Baptists thought she ought to be saved all over again.

Congratulations to Sam Simmons, Jr. who recently was promoted from a shavetail to a First Lieutenant.

Dear Allen: the gentleman I wrote you about has made arrangements for what he wanted you to help him with. He asked me to thank you for your interest and to convey to you his very best wishes. By the way, you are hitting the bull's eye every pop.

Congratulations to former Sergeant Jams B. Hooker who has recently received a commission in the U. S. Army as 2nd Lieutenant.

We are happy to add to our mailing list Mrs. Ray C. Rhodes, nee Elenor Hudson, of Winslow, Arizona. She was reared in this county but left here many years ago. Her brother, Dr. Hudson, gave the GCW to her as a present.

One of the best looking gals in Holcomb, Mrs. Paul Hayden, is a new subscriber, and she is heartily welcomed.

The pile of rubber in the public park is growing, but not nearly as fast as it should. If Grenada county people appreciated the gravity of the rubber situation, this pile of scrap could be made to attain the heighth of the old Confederate's sweat band.

The loss of revenue from the sale of gasoline is gradually reducing the money which is ordinarily used in maintaining the country roads. This is going to be a serious problem for the supervisors to solve.

Mr. Wells, Mr. Doxey's bosom friend and confidant, certainly has fixed up a radio sound truck for the coming campaign in which Mr. Wells will be with Mr. Doxey practically all the time. Such David and Johnathanism is very touching.

Had a letter from our subscriber, James H. Biddy, at Alexandria, Virginia, and he's a lieutenant in the Ordinance Department now. Congratulations, Lieutenant.

Dear Whyte, Jr. Maybe it was a mistake after all. Maybe you were not born, just thought you were born. We have not been able to pry loose a birth certificate yet.

Speaking of charter members, it will be just a month until your "jues" are due."

Denoting the seriousness of the international situation and the increasing demand for men, the July quota of selectees will be the greatest of any month so far. Grenada should give the boys from this county a "send off", however simple that "send off" may be. They usually leave here with not more public reaction—in fact, less—than a bunch that large bound for Parchman Farm.

They cannot tell me how hot it is out there at the camp driving those tractors and puttiuk on that roof. I know. I have done those things.

Lem Boone is going to Satan fast, as he has started playing pool.

Wonder whose campaign Hurd Horton is going to manage? He is usually for the under dog, so I suggest that he help "Doc" Smith's senatorial campaign.

Sister Henry Roberts paid in two dollars to my old lady, and, tho the money is credited on the books, I never saw it.

It looks like postage on newspapers is going up, but, for the present, we do not think the advance is serious enough for us to do anything about it, but pay it.

Wonder what John Emmons is doing.

A general clean-up of those places selling food and drink is impending. The Health Deparment will make a most rigid inspection and certificates will be denied those places which do not pass.

Please look at YOUR expiration date and do the thing that is urgently needed—pay up.

Brother Neil Felts has moved to Grenada from Elliott.

Our overseer, George Terrell, visited friends in Greenwood Monday.

Another paper added to our Washington bundle. The new subscriber is Miss Mary Carpenter, whom we welcome.

Notice to our dear charter members: your time will be up on or about August 1. Please begin saving up your money for that gala (to us) event.

Bim!! Bump!! Irreplaceable rubber gone when she slammed on the brakes too suddenly. Oh, she will be walking soon and will get rid of some of those cumbersome hips.

Somebody was laughing about the negro field hand who will walk from cabin to cabin in the pouring rain at night, but will drop his traces and gallop his mule home when the first drop of rain comes.

District Attorney
THOMAS G. ABERNETHY
of Okolona
Candidate for CONGRESS
FOURTH DISTRICT
Seeking promotion to a field of higher service

Daniel Webster said: "I mean to stand upon the Constitution. I need no other platform. The ends I aim at shall be my Country's, my God's and Truth."

NATIVE OF WEBSTER COUNTY

Thomas Gerstle Abernethy was born in Eupora, Webster County, Mississippi where his mother and father now reside. He is the third of five children, the eldest of whom was at his post in France within less than eight weeks following his enlistment in the armed forces of the United States in the last war. He is a descendant of a strict southern stock, whose forefathers fought with the Gray of the Southland. His father is a native of Pontotoc County and his mother of Webster County. He was married to the former Alice Margaret Lamb, a native of Attala County, the daughter of the late Alfred Shuler Lamb, a native of Attala County. He has one child, a little girl. He is thirty-nine years of age.

BUSINESS, CIVIC AND RELIGIOUS LIFE

Seventeen years ago he entered upon the practice of law in the town of Eupora and there he continued his practice until 1929 when he moved his office to Okolona in Chickasaw County. His record as a lawyer has been good. He has successfully represented clients in all of the courts of Mississippi, the Federal Courtts, and the Courts of other states. He served the town of Eupora as its Mayor during the years 1927 and 1928. He served the City of Okolona as its attorney for eight years. In 1935 he offered himself as a candidate for District Attorney of the Third Judicial District and was elected by a large majority over a strong opponent, carrying five counties of the district and losing two one of those being lost by only fourteen votes. Indicative of the good service he rendered as District Attorney he was returned to the office in 1939 without an opponent.

He is a member of the Okolona Methodist Church which he has served variously as a teacher of a boys' class a member of the Board of Stewards, Secretary of the Church Board and presently as Chairman of the Church Board. He has filled various offices in the Masonic Lodges, and is also a Shriner.

He has taken an active interest in the civic enterprisesof his community, giving much of his time and income toward the improvment of farm and industrial life, serving variously as Director, Vice-President and presently as President of the Okolona Chamber of Commerce; also as a member of the Exchange Club, Chairman of the Red Cross War Relief Drive, District Chairman of the Boy Scout movement, and as Director of the Northeast Mississippi Council.

HOME FOLKS BELIEVE IN HIM

"In 1929 he came to Okolona and has been prominently identified with the City's civic, social and church life since that time. He is recognized as one of the state's most outstanding lawyers and admired by his fellow attorneys not only in his district but throughout the state. Mr. Abernethy is well qualified by education, ability and experience to fill the important of Third Judicial District one of its most fearless and outstanding attorneys" fice he now seeks. He has made the (From the OKOLONA MESSENGER March 26, 1942).

"The Times-Post endorses Mr. Abernethy for the high place he seeks because we believe he is the most capable man to represnt his district in the halls of Congress. With his education, experience in public affairs, his honesty and a knowledge of what the needs of his people are, we believe he has all of the qualifications necessary to make this district an outstanding representative. He is now serving as District Attorney and has made a splendid record. He is energetic and can hold his own in any discussion of local or natt ional affairs. He is a man of the hizest integrity and has the confidence respect of everyone who knows him. The Times-Post wholeheartedly commends Mr. Abernethy to the people of this district, believing that he is worthy of your consideration, your confidence and your vote." (From the Houston TIMES-POST Apri, April 2, 1942).

"Friends of Webster County's T. G. Abernethy are saying "Well, old Webster has never sent a native son to Washington to represent her in the Congress but we are going to do it this summer.' Hundreds of friends of District Attorney Abernethy firmly believe that the stars denote his election. That he is able, no one doubts; that he is affable, courteous, industrious, we all know; that he is a stump orator to be feared even by the most experienced rough-and-tumble speakers has been proved over and over. He is a real bone-bred native son. He has never strayed far away from home and home ties. Even in matrimony he chose a wife who also can claim Webster as a sort of maternal genesis. It can be said here that lawyers of the Third Circuit Court District are unanimous in declaring that in the court room he is a fair but hard fighter. His friends here declare thatt such qualities are what we need in a Congressman. Nobody in Webster County doubtss that he can represent the district in a manner which will reflect credit on his state; that he will win this summer is the belief of many, not only here but throughout the district." (From the Eupora WEBSTER PROGRESS, April 2 1942).

Abernethy, do hereby recommend him to you as a fair, honest, reasonable and able man, thoroughly qualified to every respect to make the people of this district one of the best Congressme we have ever had. We Can All Be
EXPERT BUYERS

- In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.
- It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.
- When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

'Impossible'

By DUFORD JENNE
McClure Syndicate—WNU Features

THE words followed Mary to her room like a dooming sentence. In going down the hall of the boarding house she had passed Edith Lyman's room, and the door had been ajar. A group of girls were evidently discussing with Edith, who was a leader among them, some party planned for the evening; and Edith had said:

"Oh, we can't ask Mary! Ted wouldn't go with her—she's impossible!"

That was all Mary heard, but it was enough. She closed her door and stood in stricken silence. "Impossible"—how the word rang in her ears!

She was almost on the verge of tears when there was a knock on the door. She hastily controlled herself, and Edith stuck her bright head into the room.

"Hello, Mary, we're going out to a dance tonight, and couldn't you go?"

Mary's heart skipped a beat, but she was almost on the point of saying, "No!" for she knew she was being asked just to "fill in." But she was hungry to get away from the drab routine of her days, and said hesitatingly, "Yes, I'd—I'd love to go, Edith."

"O. K., then, Mary, Ted will take you."

Mary sat still a moment—Ted, one of the most welcome of the boys, who came to the house, whose kindly, attractive face always had a pleasant smile for Mary.

She dressed as carefully as she could, and she was ready when Ted came.

On the journey to the dance hall, through the crowded subway, Ted's kindness and thoughtfulness pleased her and drove away some of the chill the word "Impossible" had left.

At the hall, she entered into the spirit of the evening with all her soul, warning herself that this chance might not come again.

When the evening was over, however, and Ted had left her with a kindly good-night and in the silence of her room she "took stock" she was aware that he had shown no more than courteous interest in her.

"And I was so happy with him! If he would only ask me again!" she whispered to herself.

But he didn't, not that week-end, nor the next; and in the meantime, Mary brooded on the word that had condemned her so simply.

Finally, in desperation, she went to motherly old Mrs. Ober, who worked in some dressmaking shop, and told her the whole story.

Mrs. Ober listened, and said gently:

"Then, listen, my dear. Every girl has something of charm about her; and it is her duty to study in every way she can to bring it out. Now your—your dresses ought to be changed; it's not a matter of cost but of right choices. You see, some women have a gift for figuring such things out; and some haven't. Now, it's my business to help those who haven't; and suppose we see what we can do?"

Mary's eager agreement made the older woman smile, and they went ahead with their plans.

So the day came when Mary, while Mrs. Ober looked on with interested eyes, faced herself in her mirror in a real party dress. She was amazed at the change. Her bobbed hair had been changed in such a way as to bring out the oval of her face and the curve of her slim neck; and the dress, simple enough in design, did the rest.

"You see?" Mrs. Ober said, and Mary turned and rushed into her arms.

Things seemed to happen after that. She was hurrying down the hall to Mrs. Ober's room for the purpose of having a small change made in the dress when she met Ted at the top of the stairs. He looked at her with sudden, keen interest.

"Hullo, Mary, I hardly knew you! What is that—a new dress?" he asked with frank admiration in his eyes.

His glance set something to singing within her. "A real party dress!" she announced, as she slipped by.

Then came Edith's comment later on. "Midget, where did you get that bob? It's the work of an artist!" Then, happiest of all, came Ted with his own invitation to join him and his own special group at an evening dance.

It was in the quiet of one of the alcoves of the beautiful room outside the dance floor that he turned to her. "Mary, you are the same girl and yet you aren't, and I can't figure out what has made the difference. You remember the other time? I enjoyed having you with me then, but I feel now as if it were almost somebody else." He was smiling, but his ways were frank and he could not hide his puzzled thought.

Mary was chanting to herself, "I won't be lonesome any more," but she said to him: "The reason—oh, only a woman knows! But you don't think I'm 'Impossible'?"

He caught her hand in a tense grasp. "'Impossible'!—I should say not—and it's going to take a darned good man to get you away from me!" he said with decision.

High Egg Production While Prices Are Good

Suggestions Given for Improved Pullet Flocks

By H. H. ALP
(Extension Poultryman, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.)

In times of good prices one is not likely to think in terms of losing money, certainly not so much as when prices are low. There is a great deal more at stake, however, when prices are high, or favorable to the producer. If low egg production exists then, the loss is actually greater than it would be if egg production were low during a period of poor prices.

For good egg production at this season of the year, the pullet flock should have:

1. A poultry house which provides four square feet of floor space for each bird.
2. Some form of insulation in the house.
3. A good ration in small feeders, which are freshly filled every day, or at least every other day.
4. Two water containers in a room approximately 20 by 20 feet.
5. A ration featuring some form of milk, whole oats, a good grade of alfalfa, and a vitamin-D oil.
6. A supplemental feeding of moist mash once a day, if necessary. This practice is not essential for all flocks, but in the case of flocks "going stale" or losing weight, and for late, immature pullets.
7. Lights if necessary. Lights might be used in the same situations in which moist mash feeding is suitable. A successful practice has been to use two 10-watt lamps all night in a room 20 by 20 feet.
8. Fresh litter to keep up the spirits of the flock and for the maintenance of health.
9. Regular attention; irregularity plays havoc with egg production.
10. The benefit of some good common sense. It is not bought in bottles and bags.

AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY
Peat Moss

By FLORENCE WEED

(This is one of a series of articles showing how farm products are finding an important market in industry.)

Peat miners, you might call them, those farmers who are lucky enough to find a bed of peat located on their land. Domestic peat is needed now to supplement the reduced supply being imported from Europe.

Most of the beds in this country are located in northern states: Maine, New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio and northern Washington.

Moss, sedge and reed peat are considered safe as a fertilizer for gardens and golf course greens. Other kinds which have an acid reaction and are not chemically adapted to combination with soil are found useful as insulating material, as stable litter, and as an absorbent layer for poultry houses in winter. Peat dust is found to be an effective deodorizer. Peat can be used as a substitute for medicated cotton in the making of surgical dressings. It has been used in the making of paper.

Peat mining is not a difficult job. The peat is first ripped up from the earth, shredded in a machine, pressed or dried to get rid of excess moisture, then cleaned and sacked. For some uses, the peat is pulverized to powder. All of these are farm operations that can be done by one man.

Agricultural Notes

Wet mash has been used from the beginning of the poultry industry to encourage the birds to eat more, and to increase or maintain production.

It Took a Woman to Solve This Intricate Code

A piece of paper covered with mystic figures and signs had been discovered on the floor of the aircraft factory.

It had been seen to fall from the handbag of a girl worker who had received it from a strange woman at the works entrance. Experts had been called in to decipher the apparent code, but all failed.

Finally the manager took it home to study it further. There his wife chanced to see it, and she quickly supplied the solution.

"Why, John," she exclaimed in animation, "wherever did you get this from? It's a knitting system for a perfectly lovely sweater!"

Spider's Larder

Without refrigerators or ice, spiders and some wasps preserve meat for weeks.

Spiders need live meat to eat, and they cannot depend upon getting a sufficient supply every day. So they preserve the surplus of a catch by injecting a liquid into insect victims which stupefies but does not kill them.

Many wasps do the same. Their babies must have live meat, so the wasps inject their paralyzing fluid into spiders and caterpillars which they catch and save for babies' food.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

A SMARTLY flounced blanket chest with contrasting cushion is a useful addition to any bedroom. It serves as a convenient seat; and extra covers are right at hand on chilly nights. A pair of these, covered to match spreads, would go well with twin beds.

Plan the size of your chest to fill your needs and space. It may be made of one-inch pine and should be about 15 inches high without the cushion. Make the flounce with double fullness—that is, twice as long as the space it is to fill after it is gathered. The cushion may be filled with cotton padding, feathers or down.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

ADAM AND EVE: TEMPTATION AND SIN

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 3:1-13, 23, 24.
GOLDEN TEXT—The soul that sinneth, it shall die.—Ezekiel 18:4.

The finished creation of God was "very good," but before long it was marred by sin. Dr. Hart-Davies in his book on Genesis speaks of a brick from the walls of ancient Babylon, now in the British museum. It "bears the imprint of one of Babylon's mighty kings. Right over the center of the royal seal is deeply impressed the footprint of a 'pariah' dog which apparently trod upon it when it was soft and plastic. Human nature is like that brick. Man originally was made in the image of God, but over the divine likeness there has been superimposed the dirty disfigurement of the devil's imprint."

We see first in our lesson the appearance of the serpent who is the subtle emissary of—

I. Satan (vv. 1-5).

Man, because he was made in God's image, was not a mere automaton, having no moral choice. He was a free being who had to choose between good and evil. Obedience to God is the underlying moral principle of the universe. Man was given an opportunity to obey the prohibition of one tree in the Garden of Eden. The principle of prohibition in the midst of a world of privilege thus has divine sanction.

Satan provided the occasion for man's fall into sin. He came, not as the cloven-hoofed monstrosity of modern cartoonists, but as a creature more subtle than all other creation. His approach in our day is just as smooth and cultured (II Cor. 11:14).

II. Sin (v. 6).

Let us be clear that sin is not a necessity, not a natural weakness of man, not a falling upward in the progress of the race, but a deliberate choice to transgress the law of God. At once it showed its true nature by reaching out and leading another into transgression.

The one who listens to a slander against God can easily begin to doubt His Word, and then it is not difficult to look at what God has forbidden. Then the desire of the flesh takes hold and disobedience follows (cf. I John 2:16).

III. Shame (vv. 7-13).

The breaking of a right relationship with God broke the perfection of man's fellowship with man. Innocence was swallowed up in a sense of shame. But the shame is far deeper than a sense of nakedness. It speaks of a heart marked with sin which makes man hide from God.

Satan had promised Adam and Eve that they should know more about good and evil (v. 5), but all the good they learned about was what they had now lost, and the evil they learned was the sin which now blackened their souls and darkened their lives.

And with them fell the whole human race, for Paul tells us in Romans 5:12 that "by one man sin entered the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."

IV. Sorrow (vv. 23, 24).

Man and his help meet, who had begun with such glorious promise in the garden, now had the great sorrow of being driven out by God. No longer to be trusted, man was kept out by the cherubim, mysterious angelic beings with the awful flaming sword.

Labor, which in the garden had been but a pleasant diversion, became a struggle against a thorn-infested ground. Sorrow was linked with motherhood, and man began to bear the heavy responsibilities of life (see Gen. 3:14-19).

But we must not close our lesson without pointing out that in the midst of judgment God provided mercy. The promise of man's redemption is written first in God's Book in Genesis 3:15, and from there the scarlet thread of redemptive truth runs right through the Bible to its last chapter.

Even in judging the first Adam for his sin, God thus promised the coming of the second Adam who was to redeem the race. We became members of the first Adam's family by natural birth—without the privilege of choice. We become members of the family of the second Adam by a new birth—a spiritual, supernatural rebirth. But the latter is by our own choice! (I Cor. 15:21, 22, 45).

Wayside Ministering

Jesus was never bound down to the size of his audience. He was neither elated by a big crowd nor discouraged by an audience of one. In fact, some of his most wonderful teachings were given to individuals whom he met by the wayside, the woman of Samaria, Zacchaeus, Mary and Martha, the Syrophoenician woman, Nicodemus, the woman taken in adultery, the blind man in the temple, are only a few of those to whom Jesus gave of his best as he passed them on the way.

Here Are Low-Cost Vacation Items for the Girl Who Sews

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THOSE who give wholehearted and patriotic co-operation to the economic emergency of our nation's wartime program can be practical and saving this summer in the matter of "clothes" expenditure without sacrificing the joy that comes with the satisfaction of having a charming vacation wardrobe. They can do this just by making home-sewing a thrifty hobby.

It's more than ever important these days to in no wise underestimate the morale value of a becoming new frock, and you owe it to yourself and those who look to you for inspiration to appear at your best, especially when you want to make the cherished moments of a holiday memorable. So get out the family sewing machine and start right away on a pretty-clothes program. Even if you have never stitched a seam in your life, don't throw up your hands in despair. Your local sewing center can teach you modern sewing shortcuts and dressmaker tricks in a few afternoons and evenings.

You'll find you can gather together a collection of lovable, tubable cottons, rayon weaves, linens and such (washables are smartest to wear this summer) featured at amazingly low cost both in the regular piece goods section and on remnant counters. One of the most effective ways of making a few carefully chosen costumes go a long way toward creating a flexible, mixable all-purpose wardrobe is to plan related color schemes in companion fabrics so that you can wear the jacket of one outfit with the skirt of another, or team up at will matching or contrasting slacks, shorts and blouses. You will find great help in the intriguing stripes, checks, plaids and "plains" brought out this season in complementary weaves and colors which are really lovely.

Destined for fashion success and certain to prove a boon to the slim budget is the eye-catching three-piece playsuit shown to the right in the above illustration. By picking up remnants specially priced for quick selling you can get this outfit together at an almost unbelievably small cost. Gay print shirtwaist (a sportswear favorite this season), jumper-type shorts and a full-gathered front-buttoned overskirt complete this costume which will serve for varied occasions the whole summer through. Don't let the buttonholes frighten you, for with the new buttonhole gadget modern sewing machines have, you can make them in double quick time, even if it is your first venture.

If you covet being a heroine in a fashion success story, make the red, white and blue slacks suit centered in the picture. It consists of navy slacks, white middy, red jerkin and matching beanie cap. You'll get a world of service out of this bright assortment of play togs, and making it yourself will send your pride soaring to the 'nth degree. Notice the precision with which patriotic, colorful, shield-shaped buttons file down the side of the jerkin. By the way, a jerkin of this type is a valuable asset to any vacation wardrobe—it's the "missing link" which will convert any simple casual dress or skirt and blouse into a smart fashion unit.

For after-dark wear you'll be needing many a party frock if you are helping at army entertainment centers. All-American cotton is the wartime ideal for these summer dance-and-dine get-together affairs. You'll be your most glamorous self if you make a budget-minded dress of gaily colorful print like that illustrated to the left in the above group. Especially smart is the corseletted front bodice closing.

Cotton Is Choice Of Summer Brides

According to the signs that tell this is going to be a summer of wartime weddings. Summer with its background of flowers and sunny days and starry nights provides a most inviting setting for picturesque organdies, exquisite batistes, quaint dotted swisses and other such delicately woven cotton sheers as fashion favors this season.

Many a bride-to-be is finding it necessary to change her plans for a pretentious wedding to a program which calls for the utmost simplicity and economy, owing to wartime conditions.

One of the pleasing surprises this summer is the number of brides who are choosing for their wedding gowns pretty sheer cottons, among which organdy seems to be an outstanding favorite. To lend the most enchantment to her picturesque organdy wedding gown a recent bride wore a wide-brimmed halo of finely pleated organdy ruffles, and the effect was entrancing.

'Dunk' 'Em

There is a new word being added to the fashion vocabulary. This new word, "dunkable," is in keeping with the spirit of the times, for the trend is toward making everything washable from gloves to hats and to shoes. Washable, dunkable gloves answer the call of the hour, and you can get these in greater variety than ever before.

Midriff Blouse

Decidedly new is the "midriff" blouse. It's a startling fashion, but young girls are taking to it with enthusiasm. Wear it with the matching printed chintz skirt which is sold as its companion piece.

Flower Buttons

Bring new intrigue to your best-beloved sweater this summer with a row of gaily colorful buttons wrought in dainty florals of original design. Realistic flowers bloom on the lovely sweater shown above. The flowery motifs are contrasted effectively against the background. The knitted stitch achieves a texture that is shaggy (smartest new sweaters are like that) and almost grasslike in appearance. Irresistible and unusually colorful are these clever button originals in which tiny, artfully shaped flowers and leaves are affixed to a latticed disk of contrasting color. These three-color buttons will bring perkiness and style accent to the most somber costume. Try the flower-button way for your sweater. You'll love it!

That Nagging Backache
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action
Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

	$30,852.83
	18,738.01

The unencumbered funds are composed of unexpended balances available for current operations, future general county commitments, maintenances of highways and operations of schools, that is further obligated for and subject to be reduced by the amount of any warrant liabilities not incorporated in the records. Special funds represent the unexpended balances in sinking funds, specifically dedicated to the retirement of bonds and interest coupons. Trust funds constitute taxes in the 16th Section School fund. Since it is a fixed policy in your county to receive all 16th Section revenues in bonds as rapidly as sufficient funds accumulate, the full amount of this fund is included in the trust investments of your county.

TRUST OR RESTRICTED ASSETS

Trust assets consist of 16th Section notes receivable, $12,330.14, bonds owned by 16th section funds, $27,000.00, 16th section notes receivable from schools, $3,865.67, and real estate owned by 16th section funds, $4,802.23.

Term liability consists of serial notes payable, $10,000.00, road machinery notes payable, $8,512.25, and balances on 16th section loans to schools $3,493.63. These obligations as fully detailed in Schedules 3, 7 and 8 mature annually or semi-annually for the next five years.

FUNDED DEBT

The funded debt of your county at the end of the period as reflected in the balance sheet and further detailed in Schedule 7 amounted to $364,175.00. An analysis of this schedule details the maturities of both bonds and interest coupons for the next five years.

COMMENTS RESPECTING RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES

Your operating costs as shown above amounted to 76.06% of your total revenues, leaving 23.94% or $70,417.97 available for the retirement of term indebtedness, permanent improvements and other purposes. By reference to the detailed statements of receipts and expenditures by fund groups, this ratio of $70,417.97 may be further analyzed as follows:

	Revenues	Expenses	Gain	Loss
General County Funds	$ 42,593.25	$ 48,975.82		$ 6,382.57
Road and Bridge Funds	78,577.11	74,731.92	$ 3,845.19

Net Gain		70,417.97		70,417.97
	$294,193.02	$294,193.02	$76,880.34	$76,880.34

In the two operating fund groups shown above over which the board has close supervision, namely, general county funds and road funds, you sustained a net loss of $2,537.18 made up of a gain of $3,845.19 in road fund operations and a loss of $6,382.37 in general fund operations. In the instance of the general county funds the loss is partly due to the inclusion of expenditures approximating $3,000.00 from the court house repair and maintenance fund in your operating costs for repairs.

The gain of $3,141.10 in the trust group constitutes the net revenues from 16th section funds of which $3,000.00 was invested during the period in bonds.

TAX COLLECTIONS BY SHERIFF AND TAX COLLECTOR

The results of our examination of 1940 advalorem tax collections are presented in Exhibit "C" and Schedules 1 and 2. Other collections by the tax collector during the fiscal year were independently verified and settlement traced into the county depository. We also investigated the sufficiency of your tax collector's cash at May 5, 1942 and checked the collections and settlement of the following taxes from the close of our audit period to that date: 1941 State and County Advalorem and Poll Taxes, 1942 Automobile Privilege and Tags and State Privilege Taxes. The records of this office were maintained and all settlements and commissions found to be in order.

OFFICE OF CHANCERY CLERK AND SUPT. OF EDUCATION

The general records of your county were checked through the office of your chancery clerk who is also your county auditor. These records were found to be accurately and efficiently kept requiring only the minimum of adjustment. Releases issued for the redemption of lands sold to the State for taxes were verified and settlement therefor traced into the proper depository.

Expenditures for the scholastic year 1940-1941 were examined on the books of the office of your superintendent of education, were checked to the records of the county auditor, and compared with the budget for the county wide common school budget for this school year. This procedure revealed that expenditures were safely within the budget and budget estimates of receipts were conservative.

COMMENTS RESPECTING EXCEPTIONS TO ALLOWANCES

Exhibit "D" present a list of illegal allowances by the Board of Supervisors aggregating $94.50. These allowances were all for various display advertisements in your local newspapers for which we can find neither any legal requirement nor authority.

Exhibit "E" lists the amount of Circuit Court fees drawn by your sheriff for state failed cases and other services to the court in excess of amounts authorized by Section 1789 of the Code of 1930 and Chapter 201 of the General Laws of 1932. These allowances are scheduled separately due to the fact that they were allowed by the Circuit Court prior to allowance by the Board.

We take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the many courtesies extended our representatives during the course of this audit, and if we can be of further service to you, please call on us.

Respectfully submitted,
STATE AUDITING DEPARTMENT,
J. M. CAUSEY, CHIEF INSPECTOR

members of Congress should set a good example for the consuming public, I favor legislation that will ration commodities to them on the same basis with the general public. In war or peace, let there be no special favors to anyone except our fighting men.

11. AGENCIES AND BUREAUS: With the idea of preventing waste of money and the ever growing cost of government, I favor abolishing overlapping agencies and bureaus and the consolidation of others.

12. PUBLIC OFFICE: It is well said: "Public office is a public trust" The people trust an officer when they elect him. When he betrays that trust he has served his day and and useful ness. I solemnly promise that I will never betray you. TRY ME!

If, as a realization of my ambition of many years, I am permitted to serve you as your congressman, I pledge you not to use the office to further my personal interest or in such a way as to perpetuate myself therein. I pledge you now that I will devote myself to its responsibilities so as to merit the approval of the people of my District, State and Nation. To help the people of America and the people of this District solve their problems, and thus inscribe my name with honor, merit and distinction into the histories of our great State and Nation, is now and ever be my goal.

On the basis of my ability to render you good service I earnestly solict your support.

Faithfully yours,

THEY ALSO SERVE
Telephone offices now proudly display service flags—as a patriotic tribute to those in the armed forces of the Nation.
Although the star figures in the center field of white show the number of Southern Bell men now in the armed services, the flag might also symbolize all Southern Bell employes—for all are wholeheartedly serving their country in this great world crisis.
The telephone, fittingly termed the nerve center of the Nation, is even more vitally important in war than in peace. Thus, the telephone men and women at home whose lives are devoted to its dependable and efficient function are definitely—in the war. All stand ready for emergency calls at any hour of any day—operators, linemen, construction men, repair men—everybody.
In or out of uniform, telephone folks are doing their war work—for they all serve, and the spirit of service was never more in evidence than it is today.
